Allowable Subject Matter

1. This communication is in response to the applicants' amendments received on January 28, 2005.

2. Claims 1-7, 9-15, 17-23 and 26-28 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The primary reasons for the allowance of the independent claims 1, 9 and 17 are the inclusion of the following limitations that are not found in the prior art and they are uniquely distinct features. The closest prior arts are Ko et al (6,789,202; hereinafter Ko), Jarvis et al (5,870,561; hereinafter Jarvis) and Moriconi et al (6,158,010; hereinafter Moriconi). Ko discloses a method and apparatus for providing a policy-driven intrusion detection system for a network of computer systems. This system operates by receiving a global policy for intrusion detection that rules based on the security condition for the networked computer system. Jarvis teaches a system comprising a server that provides a set of recommended policies to clients, as to under what conditions they can generate network traffic, based on the description of proposed traffic received from each client. Moriconi teaches a system for maintaining security in computer network system by employing a policy manager located on a server for managing and distributing a security policy that controls clients access to securable components

However, These two arts, singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the following limitations:

"Claims 1, 9 and 17: wherein a host is provided including applications, a security posture interpreter, and a local policy database, the applications capable of registering with the security posture interpreter, whereupon registration, the security posture interpreter returns a current security policy to the applications."

4. The dependent claims 2-7, 10-15, 18-23 and 26-28 are allowed because they were originally found to include a unique feature not found in the closest abovementioned art.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
